

Electronic Micropipette EP2-1000

$650.00

Electronic Micropipette	Electronic Micropipette EP2 Series	Liquid Handling Products	Micropipette
-------------------------	------------------------------------	--------------------------	--------------

Electronic Micropipette EP2-1000 simple and self-calibrated electronic pipette connected to a PC via USB for calibration by the user with four different volume ranges. Allow users to generate programs on the device by letting the pipettes suit multiple application requirements for optimizing laboratory and research work with advanced functions for example provide an actual measurement of the sample, dilution, and enable mixing. Ergonomically designed with 2 buttons handle, portable and lightweight with great flexibility. Used to dispense sample measurement. This electronic pipette is ease manual work for improving the ergonomics of micropipettes and involve disposable tips that come in contact with the liquid sample. The four standard dimensions of electronic pipettes correspond to 4 different disposable tips.

Add To Cart

Product Description

Electronic Micropipette EP2-1000 simple and self-calibrated electronic pipette connected to a PC via USB for calibration by the user with four different volume ranges. Allow users to generate programs on the device by letting the pipettes suit multiple application requirements for optimizing laboratory and research work with advanced functions for example provide an actual measurement of the sample, dilution, and enable mixing. Ergonomically designed with 2 buttons handle, portable and lightweight with great flexibility. Used to dispense sample measurement. This electronic pipette is ease manual work for improving the ergonomics of micropipettes and involve disposable tips that come in contact with the liquid sample. The four standard dimensions of electronic pipettes correspond to 4 different disposable tips.

Similar Products

Buy Now

Buy Now

Buy Now

Buy Now